

Topic 83: What do people do in 4 seasons in your country?

In my country, each of the four seasons brings unique activities and traditions. Spring (February to April) is marked by the Lunar New Year (Tết), where people clean their homes, visit family, and attend festivals. Spring is also a time for blossoming flowers, making it perfect for outings and photos.

During summer (May to August), the weather is hot and humid. People flock to beaches like Đà Nẵng, Nha Trang, or Vũng Tàu for swimming and relaxation. Children enjoy their school holidays, and many families take trips to escape the heat.

Autumn (September to November) is cooler and ideal for outdoor activities. The Mid-Autumn Festival is celebrated, where children play with lanterns and enjoy mooncakes. It's also a time for scenic walks in parks.

In winter (December to January), the northern regions experience cold weather, and people wear warm clothes. They gather for hotpot meals and enjoy the festive atmosphere leading up to Tết.

For me, Spring is my favorite season, because I can be with my family.
