

Topic 81: How do you choose a gift for your friends?

Choosing the perfect gift for a friend can be both exciting and challenging. I think the key is to consider their preference. Can start by thinking about what they enjoy doing in their free time. If they love reading, a thoughtful book or a subscription to a literary magazine could be ideal. With a friend who enjoys cooking, a special kitchen tool or some tasty ingredients could be a good choice. Listen to any hints they give to me or things say they want it. Adding a personal touch, like their name on the gift, can make it extra special. Also, think about the occasion, like a birthday or holiday. The best gifts show that you care and have thought about what they would enjoy.
